a RENAISSANCE of CARE ...

Mary Reynolds, the Reformed Landscape designer, Nature activist & Author is coming to the north for the first time in October, to give two very inspiring talks (in Belfast & Rostrevor) on how each of us can make a difference by becoming GUARDIANS to our failing diversity of life.

In 2002 Mary was the youngest woman to win a Gold medal at the Chelsea Flower Show. 'Dare to be Wild' is the film made of her life then; she's now reformed :-)

"There'll be no greenwashing in these talks or following some corporate, preset agenda, no pussyfooting, just uncensored truth and the precious, practical gift of finding out how each one of us can contribute, in no matter how small a way, to our local biodiversity" Joanne McCrum

Sat Oct 11th,
2 - 4pm
Queens David Keir Building, Belfast

Sun Oct 12th,
3 - 5.30pm
An Cuan, Rostrevor

PLEASE USE THE LINKS TO REGISTER FOR YOUR FREE TICKETS

Donations welcome on the day

Contact 0773 668 2273 with any questions please

Kindly supported by
RARE - Rostrevor Action Respecting the Environment
&
Friends of the Earth Northern Ireland

Queens Rostrevor